Amendments to Rights Bill Up Next Week

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A civil rights debate that opened in unexpected serenity continues today with the bill's supporters wondering how long the smooth sailing will last.

For nearly five hours Friday the explosive issue was discussed in generally calm and reasoned tones, with even a few jokes thrown in and applause generously afforded most speakers.

That took care of almost half the time allotted for debate, and House leaders hope to clear up the rest today so that real fighting over amendments can begin Monday. All next week has been set aside for considering amendments.

The prevailing calm did not cover up the sharp differences between North and South on the bill, which would provide broad new federal powers to combat racial discrimination. But despite their fierce objections, the Southerners took almost no advantage of the many opportunities in the House rules to delay the proceedings. Only once was debate interrupted by a demand that a quorum or majority be mustered.

Instead, speakers on both sides called repeatedly for calm debate, with Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, perhaps, putting it best when he said, "Let us have the House demonstrate to the world that on legislation of this importance we can act in the cool light of reason, fairly, justly, properly."

The House leaders expect the measure to be passed without being seriously amended by Feb. 11, then on to the Senate and a likely filibuster.

For its part the Senate ran into some unusual trouble Friday on the tax cut bill—not enough talk.

It adjourned after only 2 hours and 38 minutes because there weren't enough senators on hand to keep debate rolling, and those in charge refused to allow any major votes on the bill's provisions.

President Johnson has urged quick action on the $11.6-billion tax cut, saying that every day of delay withholds $30 million from the economy's bloodstream. The Senate hopes to pass it by Feb. 11, start of the Lincoln Day recess.

Siamese Twins Die in an Hour

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Siamese twins were born at nearby St. Clair Wednesday and died within the hour, a hospital spokesman said.

The location of the juncture was not disclosed, nor was the sex of the babies or the identity of the parents.

Rockefeller Has Eye on Governorship

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller has indicated again that his eye is on Arkansas' governorship.

He told some 200 Northwest Arkansas Republicans at a meeting Wednesday night that he is "giving increasingly serious thought to becoming a candidate for governor."

Automobile bumper stickers that read "Rockefeller for Governor" were circulated at the meeting.

Ed Maestri of Tontitown, master of ceremonies at the meeting, said the group had gathered to "draft Winthrop Rockefeller." Rockefeller said he could not win the race by himself, and urged a drive to enroll more voters in Republican ranks and to build a better GOP organization in Arkansas.

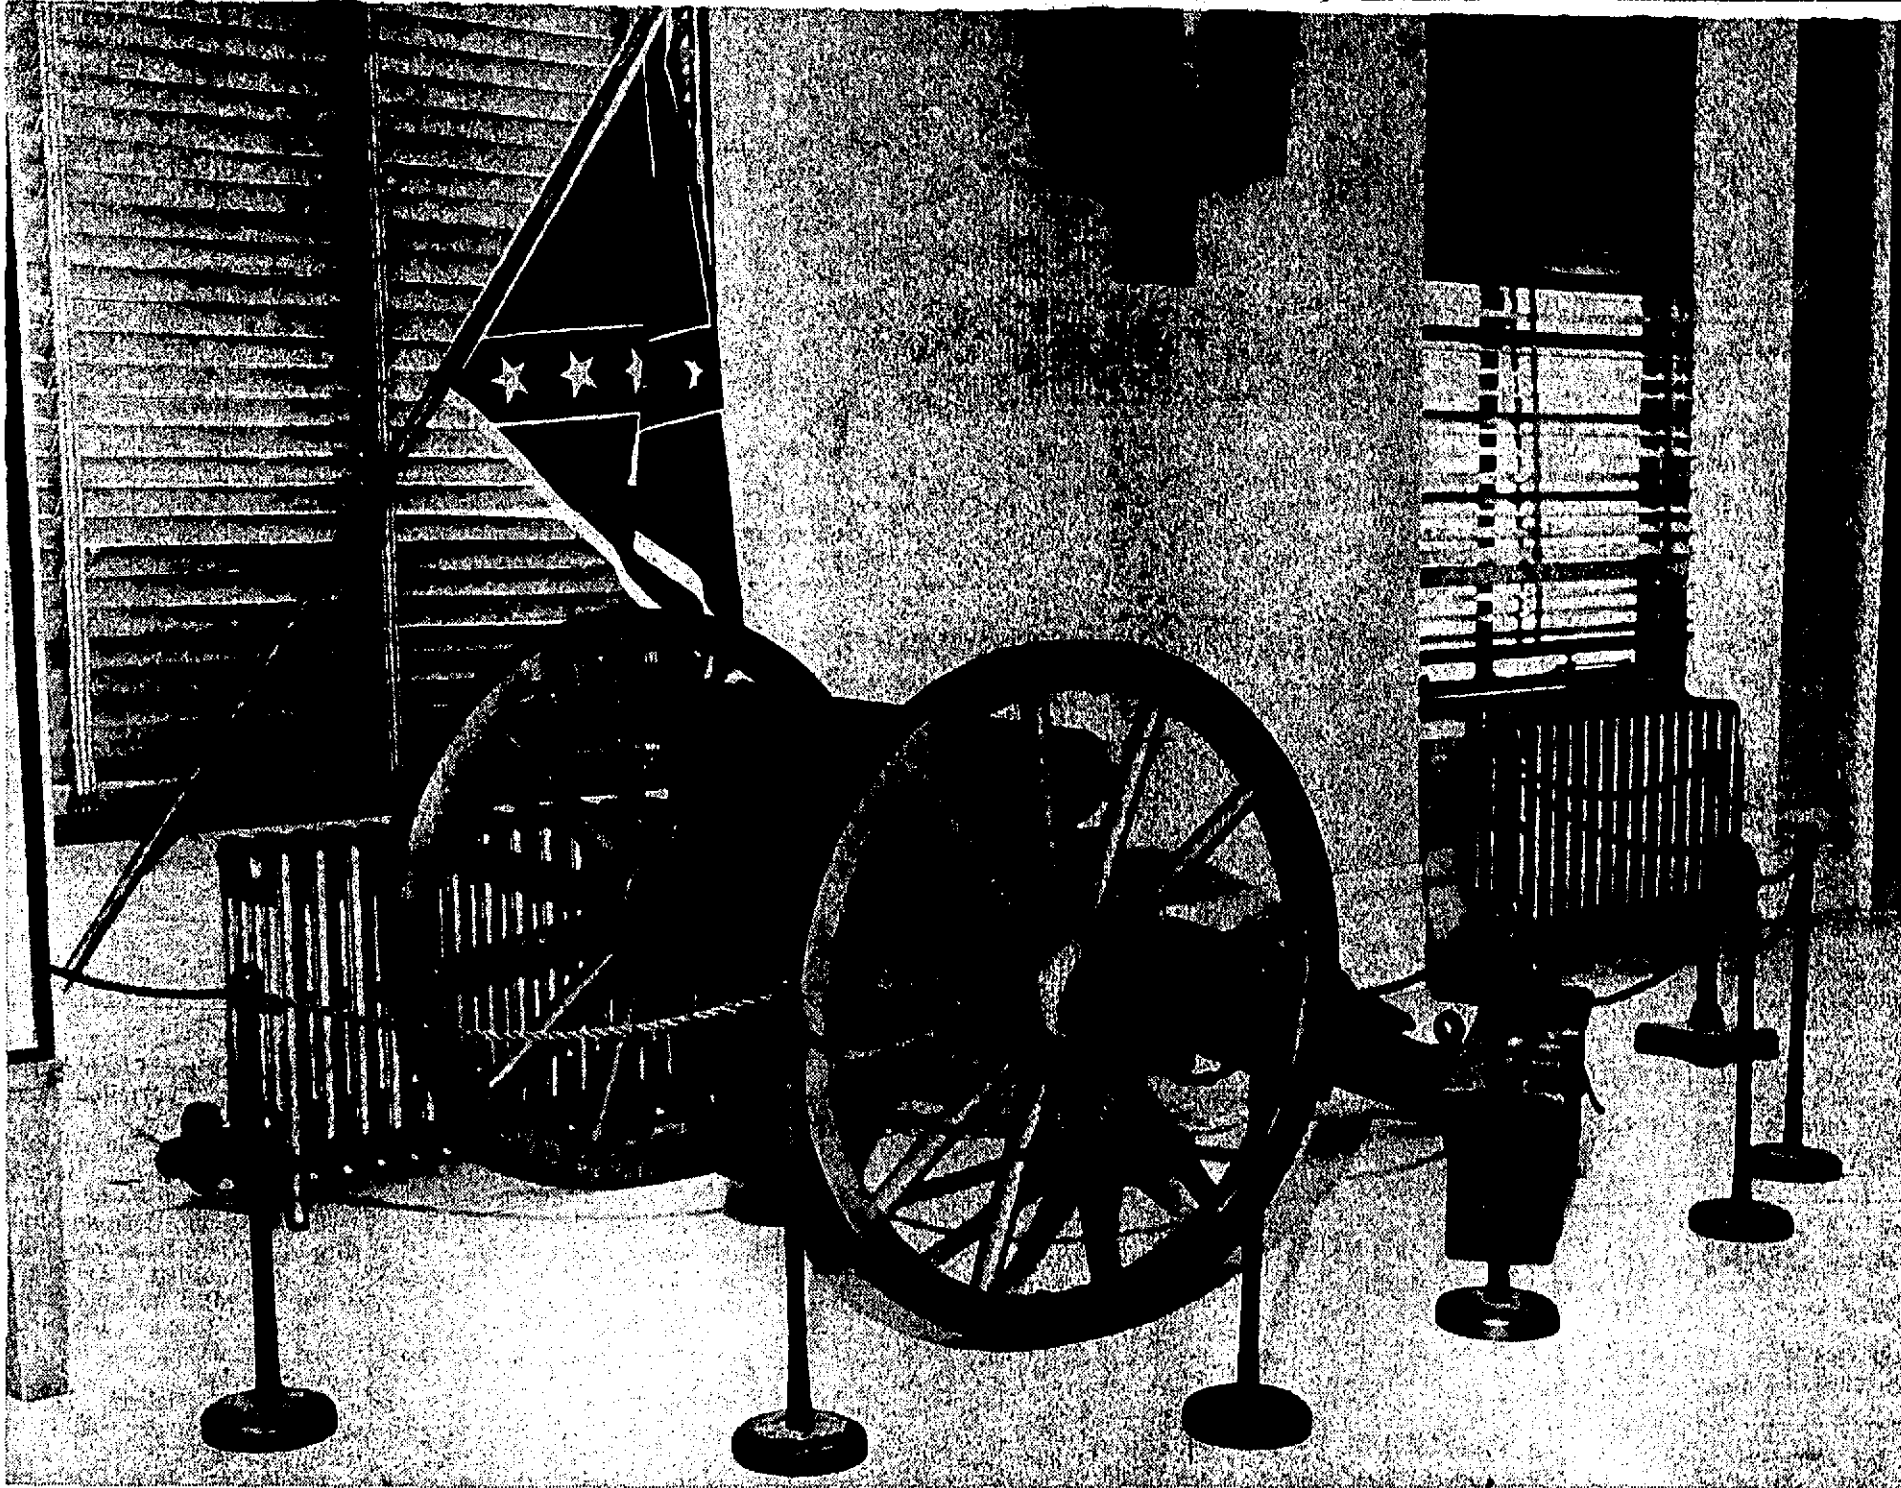

He is GOP National Committeeman from Arkansas.

Maestri blasted what he called "Old Guard" Republicans, calling them the "Democratic Fifth Column."

"It is time we shook off the do-nothing group and let the younger people take over," Maestri said.

Weather

Fair and warmer today and Sunday. Little change in temperature except cooler in the East tonight.

Cigarette Tax Revenue Drops

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said Thursday that state cigarette tax revenues declined $43,442 this month from January 1963—apparently because of the surgeon general's report linking cancer and cigarettes.

The report was released Jan. 12. The state tax on cigarettes this month produced $347,997.

Other taxes this month, Cheney said, included: Beer, $132,446, an increase of $30,119 from a last year 1,920 up $79,558 sales $598,274; special tax revenue $8,830,243; up $575,477; automobile license sales, $3,972,800, up $280,138; drivers license fees, $743,152, up $57,173.

Rights Bill Worst, Faubus Declares

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus told the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce Thursday that the civil rights bill was the worst measure Congress could pass.

He said it was 10 per cent civil rights and 90 per cent a federal power grab. Faubus reiterated criticism of centralization of government and said that if the U.S. ever developed central control it might develop the same conditions as Russia.

Scarf, Ski Rope Prove Fatal

ALTA, Utah (AP)—Evelyn Rothman, 24, Los Angeles, was killed Thursday when her scarf became entangled in a ski rope. Officials said she and her husband, Dr. Ronald Rothman, were guests at a lodge at this ski resort near Salt Lake City.

Cotton Acreage Deadline Changed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said Thursday it has changed the deadline for farmers to release the cotton acres they don't intend to plant this year from May 1 to April 15.

The change is subject to the approval of the Agriculture Department.

The acreage is released by farmers to the county ASC committee, which gives it to farms that want more acreage, and the remainder is given to the state ASC group for use in other counties where it is in demand. The state group also changed from May 15 to May 1 the deadline for county committees to re apportion the released acreage. This, too, is subject to USDA approval.

The changes, a spokesman said, would give farmers more time to plant the released acreage after it has been reapportioned.

Name of New Lake Causes an Uproar

DARDANELLE, Ark. (AP)—The Dardanelle Chamber of Commerce says a bill introduced by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett to name the lake to be formed by the Dardanelle Dam after a former Arkansas Congressman has created "quite an uproar."

The bill would name the lake after the late David D. Terry of Little Rock, a longtime supporter of Arkansas River projects.

Dr. Gene Ring, Dardanelle chamber president, said Thursday residents don't want to name the lake after anyone.

"They would rather see it named Dardanelle Lake after its geographical location," he said.

Ring said opposition groups aren't against Terry, but "we're against naming it (the lake) for any individual."

W. Lyle Sturtevant, publisher of the Dardanelle Post-Dispatch, said he has sent telegrams to members of the Arkansas Congressional delegation saying that more than 1,000 persons "have given of their time and money to realize this fine Arkansas River development, and this proposal to single out only one man is not in the spirit of fairness."

York Showing Improvement

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin York, 76, showed some improvement today, but he still is in serious condition, hospital authorities said.

The World War I hero was taken to the hospital Wednesday. York's physician said his life was not in danger but he needed to restore body liquids.

Foreman Solving Water Problem

FOREMAN, Ark. (AP)—Two new wells were insufficient, so Foreman will try to solve its water dilemma by repairing the well that started it, Mayor James T. McGuyre said Thursday.

The first of two new wells produced only 40 to 45 gallons a minute. The second was a dry hole.

"We need 120 gallons a minute before we can hook on to the mains," McGuyre said.

The city's water supply went out Monday when pumps dragged up slugs of sand, clogging the water reservoir that serves 1,200 people.

"The well has plenty of water in it if we can just get rid of the sand," the mayor said. Tank trucks continued to bring water to Foreman from Ashdown, 16 miles east.

When the delegation from Oklahoma came to Hope last Sunday and presented Judge Harry J. Lemley a certificate of commendation for his writings about Indians in the Confederacy, one of the members of that Civil War Commission, Jordan B. Reaves, and Judge Lemley also compared notes on the "Mosby Cannon," an item of historical value acquired a few years ago by Mr. Reaves.

Judge Lemley has several pictures of the cannon in his splendid Confederate collection, and one of them appears here. No wonder Mr. Reaves treasure the most brass barreled cannon, one of the most authenticated Confederate field guns known, for his gun collection!

According to history, the cannon was used in the Civil War by Major John S. Mosby, "The Grey Ghost of the Confederacy," when his Rangers waged guerrilla warfare behind the Union lines in Northern Virginia. In May, 1863, he used this small cannon to wreck a Union supply train near Catlett's Station.

Of course, the noise of cannon fire brought the Union Cavalry to the rescue, and Mosby's small band of horsemen was soon attacked by two full regiments, the Fifth New York and the First Vermont. Mosby wouldn't abandon his cannon without a fight, so while a two horse team dashed through the woods with the cannon and ammunition limber, his troopers fought for the swarming Yankees.

Six miles from the railroad, Mosby found his retreat cut off, so he implanted his cannon on high ground and sent artillery shells screaming into the enemy's ranks. The Yankees charged and were beaten back 15 times before the cannon's ammunition was exhausted. On the 16th charge the cannon had to be abandoned, and Mosby's men escaped with the exception of two who were seriously wounded.

In the years that have followed the little cannon has been in the possession of groups and individuals both North and South. The purchase price has ranged from $50 to $2,500, but apparently anything as valuable as Mosby's cannon increases its value with time, for Reaves paid the latter sum in 1960.

When he received the gun, the carriage had long been stripped of all battle hardware. However, on the left hand trunnion is the date "1862," and on the right trunnion are the letters "F-P" which, no doubt, stand for "Frederick Foundry of Richmond, Va." The letters and date are very old and are the original, beyond a doubt.

Since its purchase by Reaves, the gun has been restored as well as research will allow, and he believes the gun as it now stands to be worth about $5-$7 thousand. Of course, it is not for sale.

New Junta Marks Time in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam marked time today as Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's new military junta faced a major job of government reorganization, threats of heightened Viet Cong attack and the possibility of more army power struggles.

The nation continued its business on momentum following the army corps commander's seizure of power Thursday in a quick, bloodless coup.

Khanh, 37, who vowed to step up the war against the Communist guerrillas, appointed a 35-member military junta. There was no announcement of who would hold the key posts.

The tanks and troops that helped overthrow the old junta disappeared from Saigon today. Most people had paid scant attention to developments.

As the new regime slapped posters on walls and broadcast slogans over the radio, one Vietnamese official commented: "This kind of thing has been going on so long and so often we Saigonese are a little bored."

Khanh today made his first public appearance since the coup. He went to the Saigon airport to say goodbye to Gen. Le Van Ty, who reportedly is going to the United States for medical treatment.

Khanh appointed 17 generals and 18 colonels to a new revolutionary council, replacing the three-month-old junta of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, provisional chief of state.

Minh, popular leader of the generals' revolt against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem Nov. 1-2, was ousted after he refused to continue as figurehead chairman of the new junta. Minh was not arrested, however.

Khanh also dismissed Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho, the government's civilian leader who has held public office continuously since 1930. He was vice president under Diem.

While the political maneuvering continued, U.S. military advisers feared the Communists would capitalize on the confusion to make major military gains, as they did after Diem's ouster.

At daybreak, a bomb exploded inside a U.S. military compound. Although such bombings are not unusual in Saigon, it could have been the first Communist reaction to the coup.

Two Vietnamese girls were slightly injured and an official U.S. car was damaged.

Besides the Communists, Khanh faces grave dangers from within South Viet Nam's restive army.

Denies Castro Assassinated

HAVANA (AP)—The newspaper Revolucion published a front page note Wednesday on a rumor that circulated in Havana and abroad that Prime Minister Fidel Castro had been assassinated.

It said Castro is in perfect health but added that "in Cuba it is perfectly well known that the plans of the CIA—U.S. Central Intelligence Agency—include an attempt against Fidel's life."

State Seeks Death Penalty in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The state will seek the death penalty for Byron De La Beckwith, a white man charged with murder in the slaying of Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller, 37, said the state wants the death penalty in the case—one of the most controversial in Mississippi history.

Beckwith, 43, a segregationist, is accused of shooting Evers in the back with a high-powered rifle from ambush last June 12. The all-white jury, plus an alternate juror in case one of the 12 falls ill, was sworn in Thursday. Choosing it took four days, plus three night sessions.

Beckwith's wife arrived at the Circuit Court shortly before the 12th juror was seated.

The Beckwiths showed no sign of past marital stresses and storms that led to divorces, remarriages and estrangement. He greeted her, during a court recess, with a hug and kisses.

The defendant's wife took a seat beside him at the defense table and watched the proceedings with interest.

Some of the questions asked prospective jurors provided a clear picture of what the district attorney refers to as the popular attitude toward the case.

"The victim carried on integration activities that were repulsive to you and me," said Waller. "Now, I'm asking that you consider him as just any Negro. But can you put these things out of your mind and consider only the evidence?"

Another question was: "Do you think the law ought to be upheld, regardless of who the parties involved might be?"

Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association of Colored People.

He was killed as he stepped from his car at his Jackson home. It happened during an NAACP drive to crack rigid racial barriers in Jackson.

Estimates were that it would be at least four days before the jury gets the case—and perhaps more than a week.

Wreck Is Fatal Near Hampton

HAMPTON, Ark. (AP)—Two men were killed in the head-on collision of a state Highway Department pickup truck and a station wagon on Highway 167 five miles north of Hampton today.

A funeral home spokesman identified the dead as Delmer I. Hunt and Dewey Brandon, both of Hampton. Brandon was a foreman for the Highway Department.

Johnson's TV Up Again in Baker Hearing

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators make public today additional testimony in the Robert G. Baker probe concerning advertising time purchased on a television station owned by President Johnson's family.

The testimony, given by cookware manufacturer Albert G. Young at a closed hearing Friday, already has touched off a partisan squabble among Senate Rules Committee members.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., said late Friday that Young's testimony substantiates a sworn statement of White House aide Walter Jenkins denying knowledge of any arrangements made by a Washington insurance agent to buy the advertising time on the Austin, Tex., station and farm it out to Young's company.

The insurance man, Don B. Reynolds, testified that he had bought the time in 1957 at Jenkins' request after selling $100,000 in insurance policies on Johnson's life, raising allegations it was a kickback.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, was associated with Reynolds in his insurance firm.

Jordan's statement said Young's testimony had showed that "various mentions of President Johnson was just big talk" and also that "there has been a lot of reckless talk about the President's part in all this."

He didn't elaborate on his references to the President, who was the Democratic leader of the Senate when the insurance was written and the advertising time was sold.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a member of the committee, promptly told newsmen that he wished his colleagues would not make statements that "what we've heard in committee doesn't amount to anything."

The committee is investigating whether Baker, a former Johnson protegee, engaged in outside business dealings in conflict with his official duties or involving other improprieties. Baker resigned last Oct. 7 from the Senate post that paid him $19,600 yearly.

Networks Threatened With Strike

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiators worked against a midnight strike deadline today to avert a nationwide strike against two major radio and television networks.

Members of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians have authorized their representatives to call a strike if necessary at midnight, EST. The networks involved are the American Broadcasting Co. and the National Broadcasting Co.

A union source said Thursday: "We are miles apart on issues of wages and jurisdictions."

Spokesmen for ABC and NBC say there are enough trained supervisory employees to keep programs on the air as scheduled if they are struck.

Most of the NBC union members are technicians. ABC membership includes white collar workers, switchboard operators, publicists, secretaries, janitors, wardrobe and makeup personnel.

The strike would start simultaneously in New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The union said it is seeking job security provisions and a wage increase to bring salaries in line with those of employees at Columbia Broadcasting System, which is represented by another union.

Scientists Think Ranger 6 Will Hit Moon

By DORIS KLEIN

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists were jubilant today that the camera-packed Ranger 6 spacecraft was heading directly to an area on the moon under consideration for future astronaut landings.

If all goes well, Ranger 6 should hit the moon at 4:24 a.m. EST Sunday.

The spacecraft was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Wednesday. Its course was corrected in midflight early Thursday to aim it within a 150-mile-diameter circle on the flat plain known as Mare Tranquillitatis or the Sea of Tranquility.

In the last 10 minutes of flight, 900 miles before impact, six cameras aboard the spacecraft are supposed to start taking the first of more than 3,000 pictures.

The first photos, radioed in a steady stream to earth, should show surface areas 151,000 and 16,800-square-mile areas, taken by two wide-angle cameras. Areas of 9,480 and 1,950 square miles are the targets of four narrow-angle cameras.

Closup pictures, just before impact, should show about half a square mile. The wide-angle cameras are to take 117 pictures each, the narrow-angle cameras 714 each.

Ranger 6's target area was chosen so cameras would catch sharp shadow from slanting sun rays. The shadows will help scientists determine how rough or smooth the surface may be, vital information for spaceman landings.

The United States Apollo Project is scheduled to put a man on the moon by the end of the decade.

The best previous moon pictures were from the Soviet Union's Lunik 3 in 1959. It shot 33-mm film, developed it, and radioed back about 30 pictures from distances between 43,498 and 4,375 miles from the moon.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, who built the Ranger series and are tracking and guiding No. 6, told newsmen Friday it appears the shot is nearly perfect. If it continues, a final course adjustment may not be necessary, they said.

Friday's midcourse correction—a 67-second blast from a 50-pound thrust rocket engine—put Ranger 6 almost precisely on the beam. Otherwise, the vehicle would have passed 2,000 miles to the left of the moon and curved to within 600 miles of its backside.

Catholics Concerned by Action

Religion in the News

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Writer

A Roman Catholic president, Charles de Gaulle of France, recognized Red China this week.

The import of De Gaulle's decision was of special concern at the Vatican. The Holy See's relations with Peking have probably been poorer than with any other Communist regime.

Will China's relations with France, a nation of millions of Catholics, lead to steps which might eventually free priests who have been imprisoned? Against this consideration, will an aura of respectability given to Peking by French recognition increase the prestige—or tolerance—of communism among Catholics and thus contribute to its spread?

These are but two of the questions raised for Catholicism by De Gaulle's decision. While the Vatican has not touched these, one of its foremost journalists has analyzed the diplomatic impact of De Gaulle's action on the Western camp.

Federico Alessandrini, assistant chief editor of the Vatican daily L'Osservatore Romano, writes in the weekly Sunday Observer that if nonrecognition could have abolished the reality of Red China "no one would be in doubt about the wonderful virtue" of nonrecognition.

Alessandrini observes most of the Atlantic powers were united in withholding recognition from Peking, and adds: "The French move is a new blow to this solidarity and underlines the crisis that runs throughout the Western system."

Finds Woman's Body in Auto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock police tentatively identified a woman's body found Thursday in a burned car as that of Mrs. Virginia Pauline Rose Brannan, 50, of Little Rock.

The body was discovered by firemen who were called to the scene after passing motorists discovered the fire.

An 18-year-old boy told police that he saw a man leave the smoking car, get into another car and drive away. Five hours later the boy picked a 63-year-old man out of the police lineup and identified him as the man he had seen.

The car burned in a Little Rock park and a partly-filled petitive basis, yet, with government aid, keep it high enough to protect the grower.

Make My Bed Soon

THE STORY: Chet Covalt has been killed at the rodeo. Maggie is taking Gail, his widow, home and she asks Duffey to go along.

CHAPTER XII

Anne Winston was in a bedroom, tending Gail with a damp cloth across her forehead. Maggie said, "We're going to take Gail home with us. If Jack Charlton should think to come out here you might be kind of hazy as to just where Gail did go."

"But Duffey," Gail said. "Duffey's a thief!" And then she began to cry.

"Yes, dear," Maggie said. "We'll talk about that later."

"This didn't seem to me to be exactly the wake I would have planned for Gail Covalt's husband. As I put my arm around Gail's shoulders, I said to our hostess, 'According to the law, she's right. According to me, she's not. It's one of those things that's being worked out.'"

Mrs. Winston showed us a side door that put us out onto the drive without passing the guests.

We drove down the hill and went west along the mountain. The drive we turned into was lined with palms, and on the acres of lawn flowering peach trees were in blossom.

Margie pulled up before a broad sweep of low flagstone steps, and we had a lot of help getting the three of us out of the car.

One of them said, "I came as soon as you called, Maggie."

She said, "Thanks, Ralph. We've got to get this girl into bed. Her husband was killed in the rodeo this afternoon. She's in a state of shock. Chief Frazier, her boss, Charlton — nobody's to get in to see her unless you say so."

In the house we went down a red brick hall broken only by the geometry of a few Navajo rugs and some paintings of pale horses.

Maggie shucked a blond fox stole and threw it at a chair. She kicked off her shoes in the same general direction. "I'd take off my girdle," she informed me, "if I didn't think the cops were coming."

"Cops? You told us he was killed in the saddle — bronc event."

"With his wife sitting in a local pub. With her not even caring enough to come when they find him dead. Frazier's a cop, Duffey. Cops are born suspicious." I stared at her.

Maggie said, "I liked you the night before last. I liked you for what you were thinking about Gail, for the way you treated me and Herbert, and for the way you lit into Covalt when he began kicking a man who was down. Now, I want to know about this prison business, your father, the Navy Cross, what you're doing in town, the works."

I want your life history in a nutshell, Duffey, and don't try to kid me because I can hire private detectives to prove you a liar."

"Why?" I settled on the end of a leather sofa.

"We'll get to that later," Maggie said, "or maybe never. Put it down to the fact I'm a curious woman, a curious woman and a rich one. Herbert's showed me some of your father's articles. So how did you get in the fix you're in?"

I said, finally, "The prison thing was a lousy break. I was going to school on the GI bill at U.C.L.A. I got word that my mother had had a heart attack. She was living in Corona del Mar. I didn't have two bucks to my name, so I started hitchhiking down the coast. A guy picked me up. After a couple of miles he said he was short of sleep and asked if I'd mind driving. Twenty minutes later the cops pulled us over. He was gone before they ever escorted us to the curb. I was driving a stolen car. It also happened to belong to Winifred Berkeley of the television show. The cops were heroes and I was a car thief. My mother died that night."

"You never did get a break."

"No," I said, "that isn't quite true. Yesterday morning Lieutenant Valerich flew over from Los Angeles to tell me that a guy answering a description I gave of the boy who bolted had been picked up stealing another fancy car in Palos Verdes."

"Then you're vindicated."

"No, I'm not. The redhead with the blue tattoo on the back of his hand, the good companion who picked me up on Coast Highway, got out on bail before Valerich ever got to him. He's so far out on bail that I saw him a couple of hours ago in the Tony Pony. He was with a creep named Solly who operates a southside bar through the courtesy of a liquor permit owned by your friend, Jack Charlton."

I told her about Solly, about the Jinx, about the Rover Boys, the fat man, and the Yamanuchis.

Alan Ladd's Career Was Successful

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Alan Ladd, who realized a dream of driving a limousine through the same studio gate where once he had to punch a time clock, is dead at 50.

The 5-foot-6 star, who walked tall as a movie hero for 23 years, was found dead in the master bedroom of his home Wednesday. A servant who had become alarmed when the actor failed to wake up from a nap found the body.

A doctor and Police Chief Gus Kettmann said that Ladd died of natural causes, presumably a heart attack. An autopsy has been ordered.

Ladd, except for a butler, had been alone in his desert home for the last 10 days. His wife, the former actress Sue Carol, was at the couple's West Los Angeles home.

"I talked with Alan three times Tuesday," she said. "He seemed in fine spirits as always. It's a terrible shock."

It was Miss Carol, who later turned agent, who heard Ladd on a 15-minute radio show. She interviewed him, signed him and later married him.

After some bit parts in movies Alan got the role of the hired gunman in "This Gun for Hire."

The picture starred Robert Preston, later to become famous as "The Music Man," but it was Ladd the fans remembered.

At the height of his popularity at Paramount, Ladd received 20,000 fan letters a month. He employed eight secretaries to answer them.

Packers to Keep Hornung Coach Says

By JACK HAND
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Paul Hornung will play for the Green Bay Packers and nobody else if he is re-instated. Vince Lombardi, coach-general manager of the Packers, is very definite about this.

"Once again I will say that Paul Hornung will not be traded," said Lombardi at the close of the annual meetings of the National Football League. "I can not emphasize that too much. Any trade talk is ridiculous. I positively have no thought of trading him. If Hornung plays he will play for us." You can't be more definite than that. All that remains now is for Commissioner Pete Rozelle to take action on Hornung and Alex Karras, Detroit's defensive tackle, who were suspended indefinitely a year ago for betting on pro football games.

The Detroit Lions, like the Packers, are including their suspended star in their plans for 1964 in the hope that he will be re-instated.

There has been no indication from Rozelle about the course of action he will follow. When the two were suspended, Rozelle said the indefinite suspension could be construed to mean at least one year.

"I will not start looking into

Wants Law Pertaining to Baseball

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - Professional basketball and hockey appealed to Congress today for the same exemptions from anti-trust law now permitted baseball.

J. Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association and Clarence S. Campbell president of the National Hockey League, made their pitch in testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. Campbell said he also spoke for the American, Western and Central hockey leagues.

Both endorsed a bill sponsored by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to spell out the exemptions for pro baseball, basketball, hockey and football.

The subcommittee received a chorus of approving testimony Thursday for the bill from major and minor league baseball executives.

The subcommittee also was told that Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, wants a chance to be heard by the subcommittee.

"He will be heard," Hart said in announcing that Finley has asked for the right to state his case.

Finley is in hot water with the American League and threatening to sue it over his thus far unsuccessful efforts to move the Athletics to either Louisville, Ky., or Oakland, Calif.

Hart announced that American League President Joe Cronin and National League President Warren Giles will be heard along with Finley, but the senator announced no date. Senate debates on taxes and civil rights are expected to immobilize most committees from holding further hearings for a period of weeks starting Monday.

the Hornung and Karras situation until late February," Rozelle told newsmen Thursday.

Both the Packers and Lions, of course, can make no definite moves until Rozelle makes up his mind.

Bobcat Hopes Fade With Loss to Fairview

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star SportsWriter

The terrifying total of 47 out of 55 from the charity line, and a little luck from the field combined to lift the Fairview Cardinals above the Bobcats 89-77 last night at Fairview.

This conference loss dropped the Cats to a 2-3 loop record, and forces them to take tonight's match in order to break even for the first half of the District play. They will meet Crossett.

It just looked like one of those nights when everyone spotted the officials. They were the same pair that refereed (we use the term loosely) the Camden game.

The Cats started off their match with a bang, sinking the first five shots, and jumping in to the lead. But the Cards came fighting back, cutting down Hope's lead at the free throw line. At the end of the initial period of play, Hope held the narrow margin of 22-20.

Besides the officiating, or lack of it at times, there were certain other parallels to be drawn between this and the Camden match. In both games ed fouling, cooled off, and dropped behind during the Second Quarter. But not nearly to such an extent.

All in all, the Bobcats did a fine job, and they are to be commended for never giving up the fight, even when things looked their darkest.

The Cards took their substantial lead in the Second Quarter. At the Half they led 50-37.

Coach Billy Mitchell substituted a zone defense for the full court press he had been using when play resumed. The gap narrowed again, to 64-56. The final score was 89-77.

Dan Jones, one of the top scorers in the District, and who also played an exceptional game, was high point man with 26 points. Bill Reinhardt was next with 20. Paul Henley had 13. Johnnie Honeycutt 7, Mike Allen 4, Jerry Burnett 3, and Andy High and Jimmy Johnson 2 each.

The Junior Boys won their game, which seems to be a habit with them, by the slimmer than usual margin of 45-43. They were forced to hold off a last second effort by the Baby Birds in order to secure the match. They now stand 5-0 in league play.

Stannie Parris had 21 points in the head gunner's position. Mike Westbrook had 11, Richard Salice 6, Larry Don Wright and Dennis Turner 3 apiece, and Fred O. Ellis sacked 1.

Local fans are urged to see tonight's District match between the Bobcats and the Crosssett Eagles. Last night Crosssett upset Camden in a real surprise and it looks like the Cats have caught them on a hot weekend. The match should prove to be interesting, since it is almost essential for both teams to take it in order to stay in District competition. Junior Boys play the first game.

Siford Ties Jacob at Palm Spring

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—After the first round of the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic, Charlie Siford was in a first-place tie with Tommy Jacobs.

After the second round, Siford was tied for the lead with Doug Sanders.

Visiting the press room, as tournament leaders customarily do at the end of each round, Siford announced Thursday that he didn't feel fit to be tied again.

"I'll be back by myself tomorrow," Siford promised newsmen after reviewing his one-under-par 71 in round two of the 90-hole event.

With 36-hole scores of 137, Siford and Sanders were two shots ahead of their nearest rivals. Siford shot a six-under-par 68 Wednesday and Sanders had rounds of 69 and 68. The tournament is being played on four different desert

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS!

...but who could count them? They are too numerous to count.
God isn't stingy ... He doesn't dish them out to us one by one, but rather pours them out in numbers too big to count.
Consider only a few of the greater blessings.

He created us in His image and gave us power of reason, of choice, and the capacity to respond to varied stimuli. He put the world at our disposal and cautioned us about how we use it.

He supplied our homes, our families and gobs of material wealth we never thought possible.

Who could ask for more? Tell us just who among us could even begin to count his blessings?

Maybe it's a good time to start doing something for God ... start going to church, —for He said, "Blessings are upon the head of the just."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted ... to combat Communism on all fronts ... to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD ...
